

Do you know a child who vomits for prolonged periods?

Is the child well between episodes?

Cyclical Vomiting Syndrome (CVS) affects up to 2% of school age children. They experience episodes of severe nausea, vomiting up to 6 times an hour, and each episode may last for several hours, in extreme cases it may last days or even weeks.

Many are not diagnosed for years before getting the help and treatment they need.

The CVSA is a charity run by parents and adult sufferers, our aims are to provide support, education and research into this condition.
